Calicut Girls' Vocational & Higher Secondary School

Dawn of 20th century witnessed two major events of Thekkepuram which turned out to be the fountain heads of regional progress. They were establishment of Himayathul Islam School in 1912 and Madrasathul Muhmmadiya School in 1918. Both occurred at a time the community was stumbling far behind from mainstream education. The educational quest of the female gender still remained unaddressed till mid of the century. They were preys of child marriage and complications of "extended family" living.

In 1956, a group of philanthropists (Haji S.A Jifri, P.I Kunhammad Kutty HaJi, Haji P.P. Hasan Koya, C.P. Kunammed, S. Imbichi Koya Haji and Haji K. Hasan Koya) constituted an organization named KOZHICODE EDUCATIONAL SOCIETY. The focus was empowerment of Muslim girls through education. This thought culminated in the establishment of Calicut Girls' Vocational & Higher Secondary School at Kundungal in a land donated by Janab AK KunhiMayin Haji, an educationist, a business man and a landlord.

The school was opened on 4th August 1958 with a strength of 26. Ever since then, it has been growing to become one of the most populated in Kerala. 2015 is witnessing around 2500 girls pursue their learning from primary level to Higher Secondary and a few vocational courses both in Malayalam and English medium with the guidance of about 130 dedicated staff. The campus is spread over a land of more than one acre.

Past fifty years cannot erase the memories of many great personalities who have spared their time and wealth for the School. Dr. M.K. Muhammed Koya, K.V Koyassan Koya Haji, P.P. Ummer Koya etc. are a few to names.

In this era of Information Technology changes are occurring in every walk of life. Teaching standards, learning methods and the process of knowledge acquisition too are no exception. If an institution is run in an obsolete concept, its beneficiaries- the students- are bound to be pushed behind by miles. Access to contemporary technology and curriculum are the right of the new generation.
